

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub Musterole On The Congested Parts

Grippe, "Flu," Pneumonia all start the same way—a cold. All colds are congested and Musterole is a simple counter-irritant which brings circulation back to normal and helps prevent serious developments.

Remember that messy old mustard plaster, how it stung and blistered! It did the work all right, but Oh! it was a stern measure! Musterole has all the healing properties of grand-mother's pet remedy without the sting and blister.

Made of pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other soothing ingredients, it has been used by physicians for years for treating "Flu," Lumbago Grippe, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Headache and Pneumonia.

It was used in our training camps during the "Flu" epidemic a few years ago. The Y. M. C. A. sent thousands of jars to France for our soldiers over there.

At the first sign of a cold, get out the jar of good old Musterole and rub the

FAIRFIELD IS HAVING ITS OWN BUILDING BOOM

Fairfield is having a building boom all of its own. While other towns and cities are having a building boom, Fairfield has several buildings under construction and many more contemplated. Fairfield industries and business are greatly benefited by this boom and many are kept busy. Not only have Fairfield men plenty of business but many have contracts in adjoining towns.

Fairfield Lumber Co., which employs many men in their mill and many carpenters, have the new Singer building in Westport ready for trim and the Wakeman Memorial club in Southport, ready for plastering.

The former Banks residence on the J. W. road, which was purchased by Julius F. Brenzinger of the Max Ams Co., who intends to make it his home, will undergo extensive alterations. The house will be completely renovated and an addition made to the rear. There will be a number of new partitions built and complete new plumbing, wiring and decorating will be installed. The heating system will be removed and a new modern vapor system installed. A sun parlor and sleeping porch will be added to the addition. The contractor has been let to William Martin & Son, who will sub-let the other contracts.

These improvements need men to carry them out and as there are several wiring, heating and plumbing contractors in Fairfield, it is up to them to get the work done.

Another building project that will be started immediately is the new church of Our Lady of the Assumption, which will be erected on the property recently purchased. The church will be of 215 feet on Stratford road. The building will be more or less a temporary structure, of frame construction and with a small addition. It will seat about 250 people. After the plans are drawn the contract will be let to the lowest bidder.

It is the hope of the parishioners in Stratford to erect a handsome edifice on the site as soon as the funds are available. At the present the parish can only afford the temporary building.

At Brooklawn which is included in the town of Fairfield, there are several buildings being or contemplated. On Algonquin road a two story home with a garage in the rear, is being erected. The house will be of 29x37 feet. The living room will have a large open fireplace and the bathroom in the rear, is being erected. There will be a wing attached to the house with a sunporch and dining room.

A frame house, about 28x35 feet, having seven rooms, is being planned by Architect Edward E. Caldwell, Jr., on River View, Brooklawn, and Wood & Yarrowbrough. It will have fireplaces, tiled baths, sunporches and hardwood floors and a garage in the rear. It is probable that the plans will get the contracts if their bids are low enough.

There are several new cottages to be erected at Fairfield Beach and a local firm is making the additions to the bathing pavilion at the beach for the hotel, which will be opened this summer.

The home being erected for Walter C. Anderson on the Post road is progressing rapidly.

All in all, there ought to be enough work in Fairfield to keep Fairfield workers at work. Of course, many of the contracts are let to outside firms for various reasons, when the work could probably be done as good by local contractors, if not better and cheaper. One citizen expressed the desire that Fairfield have a "boom."

HOW TWO WOMEN ESCAPED OPERATIONS

Doctor Advised Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Happy Results in Both Cases

St. Joseph, Missouri.—"Both of my sides swelled and hurt me so that I could not move or do any of my work. There was heavy pressure and pains through my lower organs and the doctor told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for these troubles. He said I had this one chance, and if the Vegetable Compound did not help me nothing but an operation would do. After taking several bottles I felt it was helping me and now I am able to do my own work. If my testimonial will help others I shall be glad for them to read it and hope they will get the same good results as I do from this much good as it did me."

Mrs. Wm. Lockman, 513 N. 4th St., St. Joseph, Mo.

White Plains, N. Y.—"I had such a pain that I could hardly walk and the doctor said that I needed an operation. I was sick for a year before I started taking your medicine and I could not work. I saw your advertisement in a little book and that is how I came to take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write for the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

MOTHERS-BECOME SCHOOLMATES OF DAUGHTERS

Lincoln, Neb., Mar. 8.—Seven mothers, carrying from four to ten credit hours, have become the schoolmates of their daughters at the University of Nebraska. In the case of two of the mothers it is the realization of a girlhood ambition to attend college.

The others are enrolled for individual purposes, one to learn American history, another to study modern student life, and still another to theorize.

Mrs. U. C. Brecht is the mother of three children, all girls, and now her classmates. The entire family is studying daily and animal husbandry in Cotner university. Art, renaissance, a history and economics are found on Mrs. Kosch's card.

Mrs. Frederica Lau received her higher education in a German institution. So she entered the university with her two daughters to "be with Americans and learn their ideals."

Philosophy, art, history, federal administration, economics, business administration and kindred subjects draw the mothers of four other students to the university. Two of these mothers report it "rather hard to go back into the swing of school work—there is so much to learn that we learned before." These mothers report a change in theories—but to their liking.

These seven mothers are regularly enrolled students.

LONDON BOXING FANS FOLLOWING RING CLOSELY

London, March 8.—With four home champions expected to uphold their titles during the coming two months, and the prospect of seeing Carpenter again in a London ring, English enthusiasts are following the boxing game closely.

George Cook recently defeated by Carpenter returns to the ring on March 27, meeting Joe Becket, the English champion in a match labelled the British Empire heavyweight championship. It is expected that this same bill will include a bout between Joe Fox, the holder of the featherweight belt, and the Belgian, Arthur Wyns, which has been postponed from this month because the former fell a victim to the influenza victim. Wyns has already beaten one English featherweight champion, Mike Honeycutt.

Boy McCormick, who lost last November to Ted "Kid" Lewis, the middleweight holder, well known in the ring, will meet Joe Becket two weeks later to decide future possession of the light heavyweight belt, now held by McCormick.

Lewis is also recovering from an attack of the "flu" and is expected to be in perfect condition for his match with Carpenter which, according to the managers, will be held here about the middle of April.

TROTZKY INTENDS TO CLEAN RUSSIA

Moscow, March 8.—Leon Trotsky, the Soviet War Minister, has launched a campaign to make Russia clean. He intends to do this through the Red Army.

It is his chief most cherished desire to convert 100,000,000 people to his slogan: "Cleanliness is health and with health the world may be moved." Trotsky has banished grease and dirt, beads and long hair, and ill-fitting clothes from the Red Army and now he wants to pass on the benefits of cleanliness to the entire population.

Trotsky's own clothes are a model of simplicity and neatness. He wears no insignia to show he is the commander-in-chief of the army. His jacket is of gray green army cloth, with a military air given by a close-fitting, buttoned, roll-down collar and military pockets. His trousers are tucked into a pair of lace half boots. A square, medium-sized man his large head and broad forehead would attract attention of the observing in many places but his clean appearance is notable in Russia where living conditions have long conducted to neglect.

Trotsky claims that despite great strain of work he has been under for four years his health has improved. He has been improved by the cleaning of his nerves. He no longer gets excited. Also, he has become a first-rate public speaker.

Bolshevik leaders have to do their work at night, sleep when they can, and make stump speeches to a vast number of people who cannot read and who he taught only by speeches. Instead of being tired before being often speaks twice a day. He goes through setting-up exercises twice a day, walks or rides in an open automobile when he has the opportunity, gets regular sleep and never worries.

Trotsky is very keen at picking up point in conversation, to controversy arguments advanced but he is quick to be almost quackish. "He argues like a country lawyer," was the opinion expressed by some European journalists recently, after listening to him.

CITRUS FRUIT WILL RIPEN OFF THE TREES

Washington, March 8.—The grapefruit appearing on the American breakfast table may in the future be one exempt to ripeness and ripening in a frigid temperature of some refrigerating plant.

Department of Agriculture experts announced today after completion of a series of experiments begun in 1917 that contrary to the prevalent opinion, citrus fruit will ripen off the tree, like apples and pears, and will develop a superior eating quality after a period of one to three months in cold storage. The fruit, however, must be suitably "cured" before being placed in cold storage, it was determined. This curing process involving keeping the fruit in a temperature of about 70 degrees for a period of two to three weeks. It is then transferred to a temperature of 32 degrees for a longer storage.

The government experts found, it was said, that while the sugar content of the fruit remained about the same, the acid content decreased markedly during the storage, and apparently the bitterness was broken down, thus enhancing the palatability of the fruit. The process was also said to eliminate the tendency of the fruit to "pit" or form the sunken spots, which sometimes appear on the skin and impair the fruit's market value.

Springs New Scoring Idea

IRISH MEUSEL

San Antonio, Tex., March 8.—As an outfielder who contributed materially to the success of the New York Giants last season, "Irish" Meusel, in spring training with his teammates here, says he is ready to break into the major league. He says his batting averages should be revised. And he says he is not in favor of the new system simply because he proved a leader of it in the recent world's series games. He says his plan will give credit where credit is due.

Meusel's scheme is to credit the batter with the number of bases he advances a man.

It is well known among baseball men that some batters are better at the plate than others when there are men on the bases. The nervous tension proves too much for some of the hitters.

Dope on Sluggers

Sluggers who can whale the ball a mile when the sacks are empty often take that long walk back to the water bucket when there are two or three men on the sacks.

Meusel's scheme is if a man is on second base and the batter hits a long single and scores the runner the hitter should be given the credit in a special column for three bases—the one he made himself and the two he advanced the runner.

If the sacks were loaded and he cleaned them with a double he would get credit for the two bases he made himself and the one he advanced the runner.

How About Scoring? While Meusel's scheme might make a hit with ball players it would not go over strong with the scorers.

"In games in Southern California the scorers are arranged in a line. The present system of basing averages fails to tell a player's true value," said Meusel.

ACTRESS SUED AS A LOVE PIRATE

New York, March 8.—For the second time Pauline Lord, star in "Anna Christie," now playing at the Vanderbilt, has been haled into court as a "love pirate."

Mrs. Ruth Harris, the second accused in five years, charges the actress alienated the affections of Mitchell Harris, her husband, and has induced him to leave her and their ten year old daughter, June, destitute.

Harris played in stock companies. She was married to a composer of theatre-goers. His brother is Averell Harris, who played the leading roles in the number of Broadway successes.

The first episode occurred six years ago when Mrs. Nellie Roche, wife of "Billy" Roche, the prize fight promoter, charged the actress with seduction. The case was settled for $15,000, alleging alienation. There is at present a judgment for $5,148 docketed in the office of County Clerk Donegan.

Promised to "Be Good." Mrs. Harris charges Miss Lord first enticed Harris from his wife in April, 1915, Harris, she says, left the actress and promised to "be good" only to desert her a second time the following September.

When 1921, says Mrs. Harris, her husband did not support her and was friendly with Miss Lord. Mrs. Harris asks $50,000.

An interesting feature is promised at the trial by the introduction of a number of letters, purporting to have been written to Harris by Miss Lord while the former was playing in Boston with "Shavings," in the summer of 1920.

Calls Him "My Twedy." One letter, dated Sept. 15, 1920, reads in part: "Tonight everyone is out. Darlene, I miss you oh, so much. You think I am good, and to being without you and 'It you my twedy' and did you love me? and how much and if you my darlene, and 'my pie and if you nice' and for my sake and your sake destroy this. Love, Pauline."

Miss Lord insists she did not steal Harris' heart against his will.

Visiting Nurses Attended 1,435 Patients In Feb.

According to the February report made recently by Miss Janet Otley, superintendent of the Visiting Nurse Association, 1,435 patients were attended during the month by visiting nurses. This is a great increase over February, 1921, when 1,269 were made and 925 patients were attended, but according to Miss Otley, "1921 was an exceedingly healthy year all over the country."

It was found from the report that the majority of the patients were ill with grippe and pneumonia. "These diseases which were so prevalent during last month, are now rapidly diminishing," said the superintendent.

JOHN W. TITCOMB TO SPEAK. An interesting feature is promised at the trial by the introduction of a number of letters, purporting to have been written to Harris by Miss Lord while the former was playing in Boston with "Shavings," in the summer of 1920.

ton, Mildred Harris, Conrad Nagel, Theodore Kosloff, John Davidson and Julia Faye. The picture is one that will please every lover of the beautiful, lofty and artistic in the silent drama, and it leaves little to be desired by the most blasé picture fan.

An all new program of vaudeville comes to town tomorrow, for the rest of the week. Bessie Barriscale, movie star and actress has scored a triumph in nearby cities with her sketch, "The Right Girl." It is a comedy "what is comedy." The booking of the Cy Compton rodeo stars in "The Fanning of the West," as an extra added attraction, means a two headline bill, with every supporting act hand picked to make a perfectly balanced program.

EMPIRE. Because a woman, guilty of a capital crime, was superstitious—to the extent that breaking her mirror foretold shadowed doom for her—she was finally forced to confess at the eleventh hour and save the life of a man convicted of murder, though innocent.

Such is the central plot of "The Love and the Woman," a new feature picture, starring Betty Compson, to be seen at the Empire theatre today.

It is by means of this idea—playing upon the superstition of the guilty woman—that Miss Compson, in the role of the faithful wife of the accused man, succeeds in obtaining a confession from a vampire, whom she confronts with the gruesome reminder of her crime. The picture shows the danger of circumstantial evidence in homicidal cases.

No stronger play has been produced than this. William T. Carleton plays opposite the star and heads an unusually strong supporting cast.

WEST END. A gripping story of theatre life directed and written by William Christy Young, noted screen producer, will have its presentations today at the West End theatre. It is called "At the Stage Door" and is distributed by R. C. Pictures. As the name indicates, "At the Stage Door" is a production that reveals intimate glimpses of life behind the curtain of the theatre and has chiefly to do with the experiences of a young and beautiful country-bred girl who goes to New York after a
